The Age wins business award

The Age Newspaper's Employment Senior Accounts Manager Tia Clarke accepted artwork created by Peter Cave as part of the 2008 annecto Business Award presentation held last Monday morning.

The award was presented in recognition of in-kind strategic support and advice on campaigns and briefings to annecto marketing, recruitment and development staff. The support helps annecto to carry out its mission to increase opportunities and links within the community for people with disability, older people, and families.

During the presentation artist Peter Cave, who has gained confidence and independence in his abilities through annecto's encouragement, commented on the importance in breaking down the barriers in the community for people with disability.

annecto – the people network is an independent, not for profit association located in the Northern, Eastern and Western Metropolitan areas of Melbourne, Grampians region and the Loddon Mallee region, and is committed to increasing opportunities and choices and enhancing the quality of life at home and in the community for people with a disability, older persons and their carers. Our services and support enables older individuals and their carers to remain living independently in their own home within the community.
